Monday, August 23 Opening Keynote

Paul E. Clayton is known nationally for his work in motivation training for business professionals, teachers, government workers and support staff. His comic style is both informational and fun. He received his bachelor's degree in Philosophy and English. He has done graduate work at St. Mary's University in Baltimore, MD. Paul spent nine years teaching secondary school.

Mr. Clayton developed and headed the Job Search Program at the Employment and Training Center, Camden County, NJ. He later became Executive Director of the Private Industry Council of Camden County, NJ. Mr. Clayton has been lauded for his non-traditional approach to motivation.

Mr. Clayton espouses the idea that skills training are not the best way to help people get motivated. His workshops are fun and informational.

Wednesday, August 25 Closing Keynote

Silver Rose is living her life's dream of being an expert on positive personal development and relationships in the workplace. Her interest in human relations comes naturally and began when she was simultaneously a 20-year-old executive secretary to the governor of Nevada and state coordinator of the National Organization for Women. Silver's been speaking out on relationships for a long time! In 1998 she founded Silver Rose Enterprises, LLC, her human resources educational company. A member of the National Speakers Association and the Society for Human Resources Management, she is also a founding member of the United States Women's Chamber of Commerce. In all her writing and speaking, Silver draws on insights hard won as an executive recruiter in the technology and IT fields, as a corporate vice president of HR service sales and marketing, and not least, as a trained former stand-up comedienne.
