

APTatech: Transportation Technology Conference

 apta.com/conferences-events/aptatech

About the Event

APTatech is a new conference that explores how the public can use innovative technologies to better navigate transit including emerging technologies in Fare Payment, Autonomous Vehicles, Security, Safety, Intelligent Transportation System Application, Artificial Intelligence, Internet of Things (IoT), and customer information. This conference will provide a focused perspective on the utilization of technology in this mobility evolution that is impacting everything associated with ridership and convenience, including fare collection and revenue management. The APTatech Conference will help the industry rise to the challenges of the ever-moving transportation landscape and an evolving public transportation industry.

2019 APTAtech: Transportation Technology Conference - Committee Meetings

At all APTA conferences, everyone is welcome and encouraged to attend any committee meetings that are listed in the conference program. It's the best way for APTA members to decide whether to join a committee or for non-APTA members to decide to become a member of our association. Working together is the best way to get acquainted and bring your leadership skills to the national level.

For APTA members: One need not be a member of the committee or registered for the conference to attend a committee meeting, but one must be a committee member in order to vote. To join a committee, it's best to communicate with the committee staff advisor.

- How? At www.apta.com, log-in as an APTA member with your email and password of your choice.
- Need help? Contact APTA's Michael Hemsley at mhemsley@apta.com.
- There is a rich variety in the work of APTA's professional committees ... choose from over 100 groups.

Non-APTA members registered for the conference may attend published committee meetings. To join a committee and to vote at the meeting, non-members must first become an APTA member. To join APTA, please contact Michael Hemsley or Helene Brett, hbrett@apta.com.

Please note that the following schedule is preliminary and may be revised.
