Event description ✕

Welcome to the 2024 National Cyber Crime Conference! You have reached our registration page. Please take a moment to review these important details about the event.

About the National Cyber Crime Conference

The National Cyber Crime Conference is one of the world's premier cyber training events for law enforcement investigators, prosecutors, and forensic examiners. The first NCCC was held in 2012. Working together with our remarkable team of instructors, keynotes, exhibitors, and partners we have grown exponentially over the past 12 years. Today the NCCC is known for its aggressive agenda, which is always packed with hundreds of sessions on the most critical topics delivered by some of the world's top cyber experts. And we offer this training for low cost in light of the resource challenges we all face every day.

Attendance at the NCCC is restricted to actively employed law enforcement/prosecutorial agency investigators, forensic examiners, prosecutors and respective support personnel. Those who do not satisfy the criteria will receive email notification that their registration is declined. Any payment made will be promptly refunded.

Agenda. As detailed above, we are known for an agenda that features hundreds of sessions. It takes months to finalize the agenda. We expect to publish the final version in early April of 2024. To get a window into the training content, please take a look at the 2023 NCCC Agenda.

Registration Details. Please register using your agency-issued, official email address. Please also take a moment to review your registration information for accuracy prior to final submission. This information will be used to print your NCCC credentials.

Onsite Registration Fee. For onsite attendees, your registration fee covers the cost for attending the regular and plenary training sessions at the NCCC as well as morning coffee and pastries, lunch, and snacks each day of the event. Travel, per diem, lodging, and other costs are not covered. To receive an invoice to pay by check or purchase order, please email nccc@mass.gov.

Lodging. The 2024 NCCC will be held at the Four Points by Sheraton in Norwood (1125 Boston-Providence Turnpike, Norwood, Massachusetts). The hotel block is already sold out, however, there are several other hotels in the area within walking or driving distance.

Event description

Welcome to the 2024 National Cyber Crime Conference! You have reached our registration page. Please take a moment to review these important details about the event.

About the National Cyber Crime Conference

The National Cyber Crime Conference is one of the world's premier cyber training events for law enforcement investigators, prosecutors, and forensic examiners. The first NCCC was held in 2012. Working together with our remarkable team of instructors, keynotes, exhibitors, and partners we have grown exponentially over the past 12 years. Today the NCCC is known for its aggressive agenda, which is always packed with hundreds of sessions on the most critical topics delivered by some of the world's top cyber experts. And we offer this training for low cost in light of the resource challenges we all face every day.

Attendance at the NCCC is restricted to actively employed law enforcement/prosecutorial agency investigators, forensic examiners, prosecutors and respective support personnel. Those who do not satisfy the criteria will receive email notification that their registration is declined. Any payment made will be promptly refunded.

Agenda. As detailed above, we are known for an agenda that features hundreds of sessions. It takes months to finalize the agenda. We expect to publish the final version in early April of 2024. To get a window into the training content, please take a look at the 2023 NCCC Agenda.

Registration Details. Please register using your agency-issued, official email address. Please also take a moment to review your registration information for accuracy prior to final submission. This information will be used to print your NCCC credentials.

Onsite Registration Fee. For onsite attendees, your registration fee covers the cost for attending the regular and plenary training sessions at the NCCC as well as morning coffee and pastries, lunch, and snacks each day of the event. Travel, per diem, lodging, and other costs are not covered. To receive an invoice to pay by check or purchase order, please email nccc@mass.gov.

Lodging. The 2024 NCCC will be held at the Four Points by Sheraton in Norwood (1125 Boston-Providence Turnpike, Norwood, Massachusetts). The hotel block is already sold out, however, there are several other hotels in the area within walking or driving distance.