

Our Premier Annual Event for Economic Developers

ECONOMIX is our unconventional approach to an annual conference. We keep attendees on their toes throughout the multi-day event with our unique format that includes content-rich learning sessions, professional development experiences, one-on-one sessions with site consultants, unforgettable moments, world-class food, and lots of fun!

The conference is designed for economic developers BY economic developers and features 24 site consultants who are ready to build relationships directly with you! ECONOMIX is a convenient way to make and renew connections with other economic development professionals to raise your profile within our professional community.
