ATTACHMENT A

Attachment A
Scope of Work
Drainage Study of McCrary Road, Brazoswood, and Woods Edge Area

The objective of this study is to develop a base hydraulic model for the study area shown in Exhibit 1, generally consisting of the McCrary Road, Brazoswood, and Woods Edge areas. The base hydraulic model will be used to identify existing drainage patterns, main restrictions to flow, and to develop alternatives to improve drainage conditions.

BASIC SERVICES: Freese and Nichols, Inc. (FNI) (Consultant) will complete the following tasks for Fort Bend County for a total lump sum fee of $ 147,600

TASK 1. Data Collection and Evaluation $ 31,700

The Consultant will utilize the following data:

- GIS Data:
 - 2014 Lidar, bare points and Raster
 - Existing land use
 - Tracts/Parcels
 - Right of Way and drainage easements
 - District survey benchmarks
 - Recent aerial photos
- Survey of key drainage structures such as culverts, bridges, and channel dams will be performed by Weisser Engineering and surveying, Exhibit 1 shows the location of the structures to be collected. Minor drainage structures such as driveway culverts will not be collected as part of this scope of work. Survey includes sizes, materials, flowline elevations, and geo-referenced pictures at each end of the structure.

Data will be evaluated and organized as necessary to be utilized in subsequent tasks.

Consultant will complete a field visit to document current conditions of the study area. The information collected during the field visit (photographs, measurements) will aid in the development of the hydraulic model.

TASK 2. Existing Conditions $ 46,900

The draft hydrologic model for Jones Creek created by Costello Engineering will be used as the baseline for hydrology. This model will be updated to provide additional detail within the study area. Flows for the 2-yr, 5-yr, 10-yr, 25-yr, 100-yr, and 500-yr events will be developed.

A new hydraulic model will be developed using HEC-RAS 2D and will be based on 2014 LiDAR supplemented with field survey. The approximate extents of the hydraulic model are shown in Exhibit 1. The hydraulic model will include enough detail to quantify the flows, drainage patterns, depths of ponding, and interaction between Jones Creek and the study area. This scope of work doesn't incorporate an evaluation of the interaction with the Brazos River.

Main drainage structures will be incorporated into the hydraulic model, due to budget constraints, minor structures such as driveway culverts will not be incorporated as part of this scope of work.

The hydraulic model will be executed for each storm event listed above and inundation maps showing the incremental floodplain from each storm event will be developed.

Results from this analysis will be evaluated, and the main causes of drainage deficiencies will be identified and summarized.

TASK 4. Alternatives $ 46,700

The hydraulic model for existing conditions will be modified to evaluate alternatives to alleviate drainage issues. The magnitude of the alternatives will be limited to what is practical for implementation, and will consider existing ROW, drainage easements or known future road projects. Alternatives to be evaluated will fall within these categories:

1. Upsize existing culverts along main waterways; one alternative per crossing will be evaluated.
2. #1 combined with increased conveyance of main waterways; one channel section will be evaluated for the main waterways.
3. #2 combined with additional waterways such as diversion channels, large trunklines, or connectivity to nearby systems.

Opinion of Probable Construction Costs will be developed for the recommended alternatives and will be grouped by County Precinct.

The benefit from each alternative will be summarized in inundation maps that will show the reduction in inundated areas for each storm event.

Due to the nature of this study and the significant drainage issues in the study area, the alternatives will focus on increasing the conveyance of flows. As such, there may be increases in discharges to the main waterways. Although mitigation of those increases is not included in this scope of work, FNI will identify potential locations where detention ponds could be located. Detailed analysis of these locations should be considered as part of future studies.

TASK 5. Inspection of Channel Dam $ 2,900

An inspection of the channel dam located within the Paksima/Barron property will be completed. County personnel will coordinate access to the property and accompany FNI personnel during the inspection.

The purpose of this inspection is to document the condition of the structure, and to provide general recommendations. A technical memorandum documenting the inspection will be prepared.

TASK 6. Deliverables $ 8,500

Deliverables include GIS datasets, H&H models, and a technical memorandum documenting findings.

GIS Datasets:

- Field survey used to build Hydraulic model
- Georeferenced photographs taken during field visit
- Terrain used for floodplain mapping
- Inundation extents for existing conditions
- Inundation extents for proposed conditions

H&H Models

- Hydrologic model, HEC-HMS 4.2
- Hydraulic model, HEC-RAS 5.0.4

A brief technical memorandum will document the data collected, assumptions, and results. FNI will respond to one round of review comments from the County and make necessary updates to the document.

TASK 6. Project Management $ 10,900

Consultant will provide Project Management services including project coordination and communications with the County and monthly status reporting.

Conduct up to a total of three (3) Team meetings with County staff to present assumptions, and results. These meetings are anticipated as follows:

1. Kickoff and data collection meeting
2. Present results from the existing conditions analysis
3. Present results of the alternative analysis

It is anticipated that the technical tasks will be completed within five months from Notice to Proceed.
