- (2) Violation; liability for unpaid wages; liquidated damages - In the event of any violation of the clause set forth in paragraph (1) of this section the Contractor and any subcontractor responsible therefore shall be liable for the unpaid wages. In addition, such Contractor and subcontractor shall be liable to the United States for liquidated damages. Such liquidated damages shall be computed with respect to each individual laborer or mechanic, including watchmen and guards, employed in violation of the clause set forth in paragraph (1) of this section, in the sum of $10 or the maximum allowed by law for each calendar day on which such individual was required or permitted to work in excess of the standard workweek of forty hours without payment of the overtime wages required by the clause set forth in paragraph (1) of this section.
- (3) Withholding for unpaid wages and liquidated damages – County shall upon its own action or upon written request of an authorized representative of the Department of Labor withhold or cause to be withheld, from any moneys payable on account of work performed by the Contractor or subcontractor under any such contract or any other Federal contract with the same prime contractor, or any other federally-assisted contract subject to the Contract Work Hours and Safety Standards Act, which is held by the same prime contractor, such sums as may be determined to be necessary to satisfy any liabilities of such contractor or subcontractor for unpaid wages and liquidated damages as provided in the clause set forth in paragraph (2) of this section.
- (4) Subcontracts - The Contractor or subcontractor shall insert in any subcontracts the clauses set forth in paragraphs (1) through (4) of this section and also a clause requiring the subcontractors to include these clauses in any lower tier subcontracts. The prime contractor shall be responsible for compliance by any subcontractor or lower tier subcontractor with the clauses set forth in paragraphs (1) through (4) of this section.

- (5) Payrolls and basic records - Payrolls and related basic records shall be maintained by the Contractor during the course of the work and preserved for three years thereafter for all laborers and mechanics working at the worksite (or under the United States Housing Act of 1937 or the Housing Act of 1949, in the construction or development of the project). Such records shall contain the name, address and social security number of each worker, his or her correct classification, hourly rates of wages paid (including rates of contributions or costs anticipated for bona fide fringe benefits or cash equivalents thereof of the types described in section 1(b)(2)(B) of the Davis-Bacon Act), daily and weekly number of hours worked, deductions made and actual wages paid.

Whenever the Secretary of Labor has found under 29 C.F.R. 5.5(a)(1)(iv) that the wages of any laborer or mechanic include the amount of any costs reasonably anticipated in providing benefits under a plan or program described in section 1(b)(2)(B) of the Davis-Bacon Act, the Contractor shall maintain records showing that the commitment to provide such benefits is enforceable, that the plan or program is financially responsible, that the plan or program has been communicated in writing to the laborers or mechanics affected, and records of the costs anticipated or actual costs incurred in providing such benefits. Contractors employing apprentices or trainees under approved programs shall maintain written evidence of registration of apprenticeship programs, certification of trainee programs, registration of the apprentices and trainees, and ratios & wage rates prescribed in applicable programs.

- (6) The requirements of 40 U.S.C. § 3704 are applicable to construction work and provide that no laborer or mechanic must be required to work in surroundings or under working conditions which are unsanitary, hazardous or dangerous. These requirements do not apply to the purchases of supplies or materials or articles ordinarily available on the open market, or contracts for transportation or transmission of intelligence. A federally assisted construction contract must exceed $150,000 before these construction safety requirements apply to that contract.

The bidder or proposer agrees to comply with the requirements of 2 C.F.R. part 180, subpart C, as supplemented by 2 C.F.R. part 1200, while this offer is valid and throughout the period of any contract that may arise from this offer. Such disclosures are forwarded from tier to tier up to the County.

24.20. No Government Obligation to Third Parties.

County and Contractor acknowledge and agree that, notwithstanding any concurrence by the Federal Government in or approval of the solicitation or award of the contract, absent the express written consent by the Federal Government, the Federal Government is not a party to the Agreement and shall not be subject to any obligations or liabilities to County, the Contractor, or any other party (whether or not a party to that contract) pertaining to any matter resulting from the contract. The Contractor agrees to include this clause in each subcontract financed in whole or in part with Federal assistance provided by FTA. It is further agreed that the clause shall not be modified, except to identify the subcontractor who will be subject to its provisions.

24.21. Notification to FTA.

Contractor understands that if a current or prospective legal matter that may affect the Federal Government emerges, the County must promptly notify the FTA Chief Counsel, or FTA Regional Counsel for the Region in which the County is located. Upon execution of the contract, the Contractor certifies or affirms the truthfulness and accuracy of any statement it has made, it makes, it may make, or causes to be made, pertaining to the Agreement or the FTA assisted project for which the Agreement work is being performed. In addition to other penalties that may be applicable, the Contractor further acknowledges that if it makes, or causes to be made, a false, fictitious, or fraudulent claim, statement, submission, or certification, the Federal Government reserves the right to impose the penalties of the Program Fraud Civil Remedies Act of 1986 on the Contractor to the extent the Federal Government deems appropriate.

The Contractor also acknowledges that if it makes, or causes to be made, a false, fictitious, or fraudulent claim, statement, submission, or certification to the Federal Government under a contract connected with a project that is financed in whole or in part with Federal assistance originally awarded by FTA under the authority of 49 U.S.C. § 5307, the Government reserves the right to impose the penalties of 18 U.S.C. § 1001 and 49 U.S.C. § 5307(n)(1) on the Contractor, to the extent the Federal Government deems appropriate.

Under this contract, the prime contractor agrees to pay each subcontractor for satisfactory performance of its contract within 30 days from the receipt of each payment the prime contractor receives from the County. The prime contractor further agrees to full payment of retainage to each subcontractor within 30 days after the subcontractor's work is satisfactorily completed. Any delay or postponement of payment from the above referenced time frame may occur only for good cause following written approval of the County. This clause applies to both DBE and non-DBE subcontracts.

24.25. Resource Recovery.

This clause only applies to procurements of $10,000 or more per year for items designated by EPA.

The requirements of Section 6002 include procuring only items designated in guidelines of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) at 40 C.F.R. part 247 that contain the highest percentage of recovered materials practicable, consistent with maintaining a satisfactory level of competition, where the purchase price of the item exceeds $10,000 or the value of the quantity acquired during the preceding fiscal year exceeded $10,000; procuring solid waste management services in a manner that maximizes energy and resource recovery; and establishing an affirmative procurement program for procurement of recovered materials identified in the EPA guidelines.

Failure by the Subrecipient and any of its Third Party Contractors or Third Party Subcontractors to carry out the requirements of this subparagraph is a material breach of this subagreement, third party contract, or third party subcontract, as applicable, and the following remedies, or such other remedy as the County deems appropriate, include, but are not limited to, withholding monthly progress payments; assessing sanctions; liquidated damages; and/or disqualifying the Subrecipient, Third Party Contractor, or Third Party Subcontractor from future bidding as non-responsible.

24.29. Change Orders.

Verbal change orders to the Agreement are not permitted. No changes in the scope, specifications, character, or complexity of work shall be made by the Contractor without first receiving written approval by the Fort Bend County Public Transportation Director or their designee properly defining and limiting any such change. Contractor shall be liable for all costs resulting from and/or for satisfactorily correcting any specification change not properly ordered by written modification to the Contract and signed by the County.

Within 14 calendar days after Contractor's receipt of the written change order request for modification of the Contract, Contractor shall submit to County a detailed price schedule proposal for the work to be performed. This proposal shall be accepted or modified by negotiation between Contractor and the County. At the time both parties shall execute a detailed Contract modification in writing. Disagreements that cannot be resolved within negotiations shall be resolved in accordance with the contract disputes clause.

It is distinctly understood and agreed that no claim for payment for work done or materials furnished by the Contractor outside of these parameters shall be paid by County. Any such services or materials furnished by Contractor without such written order shall be at the risk, cost and expense of the Contractor, and no claim for compensation for any such services or materials shall be made.

All such changes, which are mutually agreed upon by and between all parties, shall be incorporated in written amendments to the Contract. All such amendments shall state any increase or decrease in the amount of the compensation due to County for the change in the scope.

24.30. Force Majeure

Contractor agrees that neither the County nor Contractor shall be liable or responsible to the other party, nor be deemed to have defaulted under or breached this Agreement, for any failure or delay in fulfilling or performing any term of this Agreement when and to the extent such failure or delay is caused by or results from acts beyond the impacted party's ("Impacted Party") control, including, but not limited to, the following force majeure events ("Force Majeure Events"): (a) acts of God; (b) a natural disaster (fires, explosions, earthquakes, hurricane, flooding, storms, explosions, infestations), epidemic, or pandemic; (c) war, invasion, hostilities (whether war is declared or not), terrorist threats or acts, riot or other civil unrest; (d) government order or law; (e) actions, embargoes or blockades in effect on or after the date of this Agreement; (f) action by any governmental authority; (g) national or regional emergency; (h) strikes, labor stoppages or slowdowns or other industrial disturbances; and (i) shortage of adequate power or transportation facilities. The Impacted Party shall resume the performance of its obligations as soon as reasonably practicable after the removal of the cause. In the event that the Impacted Party's failure or delay remains uncured for a period of ten (10) days following Notice given by it, the other party may thereafter terminate this Agreement upon notice.

24.31. Federal Tax Liability

Project Overview:

Chosen by the University of North Texas (UNT) Health Science Center (HSC) School of Medicine as the prime contractor to custom design and install an integrated Medical Simulation Learning Recording and Playback Video Management System (SIM-VMS), in a newly constructed medical training facility.

Services and Products Provided:

AVTG worked with UNT Health Science Center subject-matter-experts to design a recording and playback solution that worked for their required simulation and analysis workflow. Challenges were encountered early in the project, because the AVTG team was not contracted to the project until construction on the new medical building was nearing completion. At that point in time, the full extent of end user requirements for the simulation recording and playback system had not been fully defined, and as a result the architect and construction contractors had not included the required infrastructure. The AVTG team worked with UNT to create a set of requirements that were then integrated into the construction plans. By the time the construction project's substantial completion milestone was achieved, all required infrastructure for the recording/playback system had been successfully delivered.

This solution included twenty (20) simulation exam rooms, three (3) debrief classrooms, two (2) control rooms, and the simulation recording server cluster. A fiber network backbone links the video and audio acquisition devices in the medical building to the SIM-VMS server cluster in a centralized data center across campus. The SIM-VMS server is uplinked to the university firewall to allow authorized remote users to playback student video assessments through virtual-private-network (VPN) connectivity. Our team worked with the UNT information technology team to define appropriate network hardware and VLAN configurations that meet both the technical performance requirements as well as the security standards required to protect the recorded data.

Technology included multiple high-definition network streaming cameras in each simulation room, ethernet based speakers and intercom microphones to allow control room personnel to communicate with actors and students in each evaluation room. This allowed instructors to provide instructions for simulation activities throughout the facility from a central control room. Digital signal processing audio servers allow audio from the different simulation rooms to be acquired and streamed over the network to the SIM-VMS servers to be recorded for later playback.

The solution allows instructors to direct the simulation activities by utilizing a facility-wide intercom and wireless microphone system to direct participants to perform their simulation tasks or assessments. Recording the simulation activities allows for debrief and after-action reviews.

The SIM-VMS medical simulation learning system is easy to use in both active simulations and debriefing. The software provides an intuitive interface where the instructor can see all relevant data points, such as camera feeds and video feeds from medical devices. The instructor can also easily change inputs and tag relevant moments for future review and evaluation. When it comes time to debrief, the server-based storage system allows videos to be replayed on computers or tablets, and the software allows users to easily search by a number of factors, including date, training devices used, and even vital signs recorded.

The AVTG team consisted of a hybrid of audio-visual and information-technology experts to design and maintain the systems customized to the university's requirements. Utilizing commercially available simulation learning software with industry-standard audio and video solutions allows for high quality recording and playback. We created a streamlined system that is efficient and aesthetically pleasing. The design was structured so that the system is modular with room for expansion as needs change in the future.

Project Overview:

Selected to integrate high-definition cameras and digitally enhanced microphone feeds into fifteen (15) simulation exam rooms, five (5) debrief rooms and a control room. This project integrated new IP based pan-tilt-zoom (PTZ) cameras and beam-forming digital signal microphones into a CAE Healthcare simulation center management system. One important aspect in this project was the surgical practice space, because the owner had existing mannequins and legacy medical devices which they wished to incorporate. The system design allows inputs from any legacy source regardless of brand, allowing the training scenarios to take advantage of equipment previously purchased by the owner. Thus, the optimum balance of employing leading edge technology and leveraging legacy systems resulted in a budget friendly solution with no compromises!

Project Overview:

UH wished to upgrade its existing simulation monitoring system for seventeen (17) psychiatric examination and training rooms and nine (9) debrief/classroom spaces. After evaluating the legacy system and its use cases, AVTG designed a two-phase plan to upgrade the system. Phase One, which could be implemented immediately under existing budgets, significantly improved the audio quality of the system—addressing a key issue which was frustrating users. The system controls were enhanced by redesigning them into a more intuitive layout, and the addition of headphone capabilities to allow real-time observation of examination activities. Phase Two, which can be implemented when future funds are allocated, is to replace the video recording system to provide more data storage, high video quality, and improve ease of use. Through multi-phase planning, we were able to install one subsystem which can be easily expanded and integrated with the eventual Phase Two—thus providing immediate benefits and long-term cost savings.
