Carlos Guzman, Director of Economic Opportunity & Development explained Item 30A is an administrative item to clarify the perspective owner is now the actual owner. The original agreement was approved in late November of last year.

Commissioner Meyers stated essentially, Item 30A, Crowned Heron will be funding the batteries and the County will be giving a tax abatement.

Mr. Guzman stated Item 30B is a nonbinding Memorandum of Understanding between Commissioners Court and the City of Rosenberg. The point of this is to come to court with an Interlocal Agreement to activate the site further. We have the EpiCenter and would like to do a full service hotel that will bring more tourism and more dollars to the Item 30 continued - Economic Development:

County from tourism at the EpiCenter.

Commissioner Meyers questioned if the MOU included the participation by the City of Rosenberg, particularly the Hotel Occupancy Tax.

Mr. Guzman stated a lot of the incentives are geared towards the cities and we would like the City of Rosenberg to partner with us and have an understanding of the premise we are asking and to know what percentage they are contributing to the project.

To approve Item 32 (A-C), as presented.

Commissioner Meyers stated we want to use Certificates of Obligations to fund the facility and he is still of the opinion and position we should go to the voters and ask taxpayers to get their permission to spend their tax dollars on a facility of this nature. Also, Item 32C is for the Sheriff's training facility. Commissioner Meyers is for the training facility; however is not in favor of the way we have structured the financing.

Robyn Doughtie, Director of Information Technology & CIO, explained since the pandemic we have moved more towards a mobile type workforce. The refresh is performed every six years and is done in phased schedules. At this point, our inventory is low and there is a need to replenish 440 laptops. When refreshing or upgrading devices the funding comes out of the Fort Bend County IT Department budget.

Pamela Gubbels, Director of Finance and Investment stated every year $400,000 is put in the IT Department Budget to replace laptops. This year, $400,000 was budgeted in CIP; however there were more laptops than anticipated and the cost will be $653,000 rather than $400,000. This item is for the additional $253,000.
